Using the GPA Grading Scale in Blackboard

Blackboard’s Grade Center includes a number of standard grading scales, including letter grades, percentages and raw scores. If you would prefer to grade assignments using the GPA grading scale (as many instructors do for graduate courses), you will need to create a separate scale in the Grade Center, which Blackboard calls a “Grading Schema.”

Creating a GPA Grading Schema in the Grade Center

Enter your course and access the Grade Center through the Control Panel. Under the Manage button, select Grading Schemas.

On the Grading Schemas page, you will see that one schema has already been created: Letter. Click on the down arrow button and select Copy to create a new schema, which will now be called Letter (2). Click on the down arrow next to this new schema and select Edit.

On the Edit Grading Schema page, rename the schema to GPA. Under Schema Mapping, replace the letter grades with the appropriate GPA equivalents. The University has a table which lists each letter grade and GPA values: http://www.hartford.edu/academics/grading_system.aspx. You can use these values, or you can use the Insert and Remove Row buttons to make your schema more detailed.

Once you have entered the values for your schema, click Submit. Now, you can enter a percentage or score and have it display in the GPA scale.
Using the GPA Schema in the Grade Center

On the main page of the Grade Center, click on Create Column. Give the column a name and category, then enter the points possible. (You do not need to enter 4.0 for the points possible; Blackboard will convert the percentage into the GPA scale automatically. We suggest 100 points as the default.) Under Primary Display, select GPA.

Click Submit. You can now enter the grades in the column in one of two ways: as a score, which will calculate the GPA automatically; or directly as a GPA score.

What if I prefer to enter letter grades?

Currently, the GPA schema only allows you to enter grades in two ways: as a number or as a GPA score. If you would prefer to enter letter grades and have them display as GPA scores, you will need to create a second column for each assignment.

First, click on Create Column to create a column for the assignment. Add the column name, category and points possible. Set the Primary Display to Letter. Under “Include this column in Grade Center calculations,” click No. Under “Show this column to students,” click No to make it invisible to students. Click Submit at the bottom of the page to return to the Grade Center.

Next, go to Create Calculated Column and select Weighted Total Column. Add the column name, category and points possible. Set the Primary Display to GPA. Under Select Columns, click on Selected Columns and Categories. A menu will open up, allowing you to choose which columns or categories to include. Select the grade column you created previously and click on the arrow to add it. Click Submit at the bottom of the page.

Adding Items to the Calculated Total Column
To enter letter grades and have them appear as GPA scores, enter the letters in the first column that you have made unavailable to students. The GPA scores will appear automatically in the second column you have created.

Important: Blackboard uses standard default percentages when calculating letter grades. If you would like to modify these percentages (to add a curve, for example), you will need to modify the Letter schema. Go to Manage → Grading Schemas on the main page of the Grade Center, then click on Modify next to the Letter schema to edit it accordingly.
