Ethical Behavior / AIRC Certification

As an AIRC Institutional Member we believe in and abide by the certification Standards.

Whether you hold certification guidelines or not it is expected that you will also abide by these guidelines. It is in your best interest to your staff become intimately familiar with the Standards and to employ them as a regular practice. Failure to do so will reflect negatively on your evaluation.

Why work with Hartford? / We want to make you look good!

At Hartford our goal is to make our partners look good. How? We want to be responsive and thorough. If we aren’t...let us know and we will strive to meet the high expectations you have for your University Partners.

Here’s how we will try to make you look good:
Preliminary offer of admission for Undergraduate students – Send a PDF of the student’s academic record. We will review and reply regarding the student’s likelihood of admission to Hartford (NOT for ART or MUSIC students...all others). This will save you time...it will also provide you leverage in working with your students to complete their files.

Conditional Admission for Undergraduate Students – We review on the basis of a student’s academic record. Their English testing simply determines if they will begin in a full degree program or in our on campus English Language Institute.

Responsive – Our goal is get you answer so you can work efficiently with your students. It may not always be the answer you desire...but we will strive to get you answer so you can complete the file with your prospective Hartford student.

Basic Facts about Hartford

Location - 7km from Hartford, Connecticut. University campus is located in the town of West Hartford, Connecticut. Hartford is on the East coast two hour's drive south of Boston, Massachusetts and two hours north of New York City.

Hartford is a city of approximately 150,000 residents and is the former home of America's most famous author, Mark Twain (Samuel Clemens). Ms. Clemens was the founder of the Hartford Art School...the University of Hartford’s 1st college.

Transportation – There is a bus line that stops on the University campus and provides transportation into Hartford and the surrounding towns that border the University campus. The University also operates a Shuttle bus to assist you in moving around Hartford, West Hartford and Bloomfield (towns that surround the campus).

Many students chose to keep cars on campus and this is possible but students are required to pay for keeping a car on campus ($500.00 per academic year). Cars are only needed if students are participating in an off campus internship. These typically happen in the third or fourth year of study.

West Hartford Center – a variety of restaurants, shops and cafes are but a few miles (2.3) from the University campus. Bus, bike or ride with a friend to West Hartford center for a great meal or some accessories for your room.
Number of Students - 4700 undergraduates, 80% live on the University campus in dorms, suites and apartments. 8% of our students are studying with us on Visas.

Student Stories – Bank of Student testimonials / with video

International Student Ambassadors – bios and contact info / current international students from around the world

Comprehensive University – Seven academic divisions / colleges. Arts and Sciences, Business (AACSB Accredited), Music, Fine Arts, Education, Engineering (ABET Accredited), and Hillyer (2 year Liberal Arts College). All other programs have the appropriate regional or professional accreditation.
Class Size – University average is 22. Number generally decreases in the third and fourth year. Graduate courses typically have 10-18 students per class.

Faculty Student Ratio – is 9 to 1

Selling Points / Why Hartford?

University Environment

The campus is beautifully landscaped with many trees and flowering bushes. The area surrounding the campus is a safe neighborhood with beautiful homes and well-maintained gardens. The University campus is only a short drive from the downtown city area. The great American cities of New York and Boston can be reached within 2.5 hours by car, bus, or train.

Visit Our Photo Gallery

Small Interactive Classes

Professors get to know students as they become involved in their class. Students are expected to come to class prepared to exchange ideas with classmates. Being an active member of a small class is how we develop skills that are in greatest demand by leading companies around the world.

Accolades

Hartford graduates ranked second in mid-career earnings of all universities in CT $86,000+ (Brookings Institution)
Music and Fine Arts ranked in the Top 50 of the all US universities

Academic & Social Support & Services

If students require assistance with their subjects, housing, or emotional support, UHart offers the following support services:

Student Support & Services

- English Language Institute
- Center for Reading & Writing
- Learning Plus – Learning Disabled or Challenged students
- Mathematics & Physics Tutoring Lab
- Hillyer College Study Center
- Tutorzone – Technical Subjects
- Student Success Center

International Services

- Study Abroad – Learn about going to other countries for a semester or a year.
- English Language Institute – Helps with improvement of English language skills through its ESL program.
- International Center – Assists with questions about Visa problems or the process of adaptation to the student's new life. The International Center provides International Student Orientation before the first day of class, to introduce students to university life at UHart.
- International Admission – Assists students at each stage of the recruitment and admission process.

Career

Career Services – The mission of this office is to help students acquire the tools needed to make effective career decisions during each phase of their time at the University. The staff of this office will coordinate with faculty to support students’ academic and career planning, and will work to connect employers with students and alumni seeking jobs or internships, and advise parents how to assist their students with their career planning.

Health
Health Services – The Office of Student Health Services provides healthcare as required. Acute care is provided by the Student Health Services staff, which includes nurses, nurse practitioners and physicians. Our healthcare providers have access to a wide range of specialists and emergency services when necessary.

Undergraduate Degree Scholarships

International Scholarship - Students are considered for grants that range from $6,000 to $16,000 per academic year. Scholarships are awarded automatically...no separate application required. Decisions are based on student's academic performance throughout High School and University (if applying as a transfer student).

Performing Arts and Artistic Talent Scholarship - Students who plan to study Music, Dance, Theater or Fine Arts will complete for Scholarship that ranges from $4000 to Full tuition (students have to pay living expenses).

Athletic Scholarship - As an NCAA Division I institution we do award scholarship to students who demonstrate a high level of athletic ability. Awards range from partial tuition scholarship to full tuition, housing, and meals.

Graduate Assistantships

Some graduate programs offer assistantships that can help a student pay for tuition costs. Students can inquire with their degree program about the application process for assistantships. Hartt and Art students may qualify for talent based scholarships. Prosthetics and Orthotics students may also qualify for merit based funding.

Academic Divisions / Colleges

The University offers 84 bachelor’s degree programs, 6 associate’s degrees, and seven certificates or diplomas. UHart degrees hold the highest level of accreditation available in the US. It is accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) State of Connecticut, Board of Higher Education. Its professional degrees are all recognized by the affiliated credentialing bodies within the US.

The Barney School of Business

The Barney School is among the elite 5% of business schools worldwide accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB). We are also ranked by The Princeton Review as one of the country’s top 295 business schools. And in key specialty areas we receive accolades, for example ranking #2 in the U.S. in insurance hiring of undergraduates by Business Insurance magazine.

What do we do that creates such high quality and recognition? The answer best lies in our unrelenting commitment to preparing students who are Career Ready. Our graduates will have three things that set them apart. First, they are competent in their major and minor areas of study, experienced in doing real business work. Second, they become confident in engaging with managers and executives and able to make positive and convincing impression of their value to organizations. And third, our graduates are connected with alumni and other business leaders, with established networks for career guidance and support.

College of Arts & Sciences

The College of Arts and Sciences is the University's central and largest college. At Hartford we believe that heart of any good education is a solid grounding in the Liberal Arts. Students in all disciplines will take subjects in this College as part of their General Education requirements.

Study in the Liberal Arts will help you develop the skills employers rank highest: Critical thinking and analysis. Through its instruction in the humanities, sciences, and social sciences, the College of Arts and Sciences seeks to foster respect for excellence, tolerance for others, and dedication to fairness and social justice.

Hartford Art School

The Hartford Art School has been educating successful artists for 134 years since it was first housed in the Wadsworth Atheneum, the nation’s oldest public art museum. It’s an honor to become part of this legacy. The small size of 350 undergraduate students with 44 full-time and part-time faculty affords a 17:1 student / faculty ratio for personal instruction, with plenty of access to the school’s excellent facilities. The Hartford Art School has all the advantages of the nation’s best independent colleges of art and design, with the benefit of being within a comprehensive university that offers a strong liberal arts core and a range of distinctive professional schools that can provide minors in complementary disciplines.

College of Engineering, Technology & Architecture

CETA focuses on interdisciplinary and undergraduate research. You will work on real-world projects sponsored by industries like United Technologies and Gerber Scientific and government agencies like NASA. Even first-year students can get involved in research work that is about helping people. In addition, we offer a wide variety of programs in engineering and technology as well as architecture. And you can get involved in a variety of professional societies from the moment you join CETA. These organizations offer you the chance to socialize with people who share your interests, to network for internships and jobs, to attend conferences, and to learn from your peers. All CETA organizations are student-led. Your average class will be 18 students, though many classes will be less in number. Programs in CETA are accredited by ABET and accepted worldwide.

College of Education & Health Professions

The College of Education, Nursing and Health Professions (ENHP) has a long-standing commitment to preparing professionals for service to the Educational Community and Hartford’s many Hospitals. It has numerous partnerships with education, health, and community organizations and strives to prepare teachers, promoters of well-being, and leaders through its programs.

ENHP is comprised of three departments: The Department of Education, The Department of Health Sciences and the Department of Rehabilitation Sciences. ENHP is responding actively to the growing demands of the US's need for quality Health care professionals. All degrees offered by ENHP hold the highest level of accreditation in the US.

The Hartt School (Music, Theatre & Dance)

The Hartt School is the comprehensive performing arts conservatory of the University. The Hartt School offers innovative degree programs in Music, Dance and Theatre. Renowned Professors who perform and teach around the world challenge our students in their pursuit of excellence.

With dozens of performing organizations and more than 400 instrumental and vocal performances, recitals, plays, master classes, dance performances and musical theatre productions a year, performance is central to the Hartt School’s method of teaching.

Audition Required

All applicants to The Hartt School must complete an additional supplemental application and audition and/or interview for entrance. All requirements (including how to prepare recorded auditions) can be found on Hartt’s website.

Hillyer College

Hillyer College provides the first two years of the bachelor’s degree at the University of Hartford. Although all Hillyer students who have completed the requirements receive an associate’s degree at the end of those two years, our selection criteria focuses on students who are interested in pursuing a bachelor’s degree and more. Hillyer’s rich and challenging curriculum streamlines student transition to the bachelor’s degree program. Students focused on biology and the health sciences may choose to pursue the Associate in Science, General Sciences degree which provides an excellent foundation in mathematics and sciences. Students in the Liberal Studies Associate degree program may select various academic concentrations, such as education or environmental studies.

Academic Program

First Year
Second Year

Fit is defined as the process of matching of the student's educational performance (Grades) Degree objectives (Major/Degree) & financial resources ($$$$) with Hartford’s admission requirements, degree offerings and cost of attendance.

Step one: Has the student performed at an above average level in Secondary or University study? Students who are in the top third of their class with grades/notes that are equal to 80/100, 3.0 out of 4.0, B Average are good candidates for admission.
Step two: In what academic area (major/degree) does the student want to study? Does the University of Hartford offer this degree at the Undergraduate level? Programs of Study.

Step Three: What is the student’s budget for studying in the US? If the amount is in excess of $40,000 per year...they are a good candidate. Visit our Cost of attendance.

Frequently Asked Questions / FAQ’s

Is the University Campus safe?

Yes. Like all American Cities Hartford has a section that can be dangerous if visited at night. The University Campus is located in a very safe residential area 7KM from the city of Hartford.

It seems to cost a lot of money...why does Hartford cost more than a State University? (Comparing Public University Ed. to Private Univ. Education)

Public University's because of their lower cost are usually more attractive to the majority of the state population. As a result the size of the institution and average class size will be higher than that of a Private University.

Teaching a class to 200 students is much more cost effective than teaching a class to group of 20 students. In a class of 20 you will feel a part of the process of learning – not just a spectator. You will also have an opportunity to interact with the professor and your classmates. Rarely are classes taught only by lecturing. Most involve team exercises, group work, or seminar/discussion type formats.

Who’s doing the Teaching? – Public University’s place a great demand on their full time graduate students to teach their introductory level courses. These are generally straight lecture courses that require little interaction between the students and faculty.

Private University's rarely if ever allow graduate students to teach courses. Paying a professor is much more expensive than paying a graduate student. Hartford chooses to put its best teachers in front of our students.
State Support - Public University’s such as the University of Connecticut receive nearly 50% of their operating budget from the State Government. As a Private University the University receives no financial support from the State of Connecticut. As a result the Univ. of CT only has to charge .50 of each dollar to provide education to its students. Hartford must charge the entire cost of education to the student.
