Recipient should be an ENHP student majoring in health professions who has overcome obstacles to attend the University. This scholarship was created in 2002 in memory of Ralph M. Aloisi, professor of biology and health sciences and former associate dean. He suffered from long-term health problems and died at the age of 56. Professor Aloisi worked at the University of Hartford for 23 years. He had a profound impact on thousands of students and his work and vision played a key role in the development of the All-University Curriculum (AUC). He also helped to create some of the University’s successful Health Professions programs. Professor Aloisi’s background in medical technology and immunology, combined with his belief in the importance of teaching students about critical issues in health care, led him to develop an AUC course called Epidemics and AIDS, which is one of the first undergraduate courses on AIDS in the country. Similar courses are now offered at more than 40 colleges and universities, largely because of Professor Aloisi’s work. He had an extraordinary dedication to his students and was an outstanding mentor to other faculty members. Professor Aloisi received the Roy E. Larsen Excellence in Teaching and Donald W. Davis All-University Curriculum Awards. His wife, son, daughter, son-in-law and sister-in-law are all alums of the University of Hartford. There is a statement about him that is read at each Awards Day.

Purpose: To provide a scholarship(s) for deserving student(s). This was an estate gift to benefit our students. Miss Bills was a Trustee of Hillyer College 1937 to 1954. Miss Marion Almira Bills a former assistant secretary of Aetna Life and Casualty and the first woman to be named an officer of a Hartford insurance company, died June 1970 in her home after a long illness. Born in Allegan, Mich., Miss Bills was a graduate of the University of Michigan. She received a doctorate in psychology at Bryn Mawr College. After serving as assistant director of Carnegie Institute's Bureau of Personnel Research, she became a consultant for the Life Insurance Sales Research Bureau. She came to Aetna in 1925, and remained with the firm until her retirement in 1955. She was appointed assistant secretary of the insurance company in 1936, and later was named to a similar position in Aetna Life Affiliated Companies. Miss Bills was a pioneer in applying techniques of time and motion study, job analysis and classification and wage incentive plans to clerical groups. Her many contributions to the field of personnel research and administration were widely recognized, notably by the Leffingwell Medal awarded by the National Office Management Association in 1940. A member of the American and Connecticut Boards of Examiners of Psychologists, Miss Bills was a director of the Life Offices Management Association, and for many years chaired the committee which developed tests widely used by the industry in personnel administration. She was active in many community activities and served as a trustee of Hillyer College and as a YWCA board member.
In 1954 she was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree from Hillyer. Miss Bills was also a pioneer in recreation. In the early 1930's, when few women operated their own boats, she cruised the waters of the Connecticut River and Long Island sound in her cabin cruiser "Mab." She was one of the first women in the country to complete the U.S. Power Squadron's navigation courses.

William and Henriette Brand Memorial Endowed Scholarship
To benefit: The Hartt School
Contact: Ron Jacobs – Brand Estate Attorney
Created in: 1984
Purpose: To provide a scholarship for The Hartt School. The William and Henriette Brand scholarship was established in 1984 in honor of William Brand’s 95th birthday. William Brand lived a life that was rich and full. A “self-made man,” his business career began at the age of 13 when he began selling curtains, tablecloths, and rugs in Leipzig, Germany. The young German immigrant came to New York just at the outbreak of World War I with the hope of building a future. Despite early struggles with hardship and hunger, he rose to a position of leadership in America’s electronic industry. Throughout Mr. Brand’s illustrious career, business relationships were cemented with sound personal relationships as the very basis for creating sales. He inspired feelings of trust, confidence and optimism. Mr. Brand had an affectionate respect for the individual – his understanding and willingness to accept every man as he is. He also had an honest desire to be helpful to those in need. He generously contributed to charities – influencing countless lives for the good. He passed away in 1991. Henriette was born in Germany and lived a full life. She was very involved in many charitable events, especially The Hartt School, where she and her husband were major contributors for many years. Henriette was famous for her cooking and her parties, particularly on her husband’s birthday. She passed away in 2005 at the age of 72.

Joseph T. Buonagurio '09 Memorial Endowed Scholarship
To benefit: College of Engineering, Technology, and Architecture
Benefactors: Maria and Joseph Buonagurio P’09, Bill and Debbie Tramontano
Created in: 2009
Purpose: To honor the memory of Joseph T. Buonagurio, who was a month away from graduating from the University of Hartford when he died in a car accident. Recipient should be a student attending the College of Engineering, Technology and Architecture with a preference for a student studying Mechanical Engineering. This scholarship was established to honor the memory of Joseph Thomas Buonagurio, a senior in the College of Engineering, Technology, and Architecture, who died tragically in a car accident on April 19, 2009. Even as a young child, Joseph’s aptitude for all things mechanical was evident, and he enjoyed the practical side of engineering together with the more theoretical side. While a student at the University of Hartford, he learned that engineering truly was his vocation. At the time of his death, he was only a month away from graduating with a degree in mechanical engineering; he was 21 years old. Joseph’s family and friends created this scholarship as a token of their love for him and his love of engineering. They want the recipients of this scholarship to know that the generosity of others is helping to “make their dreams come alive.” They hope that these students will also become philanthropic and that they will start soon because no gift is too small to give or too small to help.

This scholarship was created in memory of Justin Campeau, who ended his battle with leukemia in November, 2002. He was an alumnus of the University of Hartford and he loved the Hartt School. Justin loved life and all kinds of music. He was a violist and developed a passion for chamber music at Hartt. He was also a very caring person and loved his fellow students and friends. Justin’s parents created this scholarship with the hope that it would help other students to fulfill their musical and personal identities. They feel that establishing this memorial will help to keep Justin’s memory alive at the Hartt School for many years to come.

Elizabeth Capen Endowed Scholarship - HAS, Inc.
To benefit: Hartford Art School
Created in: 1973
Purpose: To provide a scholarship for a student enrolled in the Hartford Art School based on artistic merit and financial need. Recipient should be a student enrolled in HAS, selected at the discretion of the Dean of HAS. Elizabeth Capen’s mother, Elizabeth Batterson Beach, was one of the founders of the Art School and was president of the board. Mrs. Capen herself was a member of the Hartford Art School Board of Trustees for over 70 years and her mother was President of the Board in 1910. As you can see, there is a long family association with the Art School. Elizabeth and her mother were adamant about the importance of providing scholarship support for students. Mrs. Capen died at age 100.

Louis T. Carabillo Endowed Scholarship for Violinists
To benefit: The Hartt School
Created in: 2002
Purpose: To provide scholarships for talented and deserving violinists at The Hartt School. Mrs. Carabillo donated her husband’s treasured violin to The Hartt School. This scholarship was created in 2002 in memory of Louis T. Carabillo, a former faculty member at the University of Hartford. Mr. Carabillo began playing violin at the age of 12, taught by a cousin who was a first chair violinist for the Hartford Symphony. He was married for 44 years and died of a stroke in 2002. His wife says he was polite, handsome and he played the violin for her every day. She wishes she could do more and says that students should always give back, even if it’s not necessarily a monetary gift. After attending the annual Donor Appreciation event where the student recipient serenaded her, she decided to create a scholarship in her husband’s name.

Grace Carney Endowed Scholarship
To benefit: University of Hartford
Contacts: Charles Condon, Julie Wagner - United Tool and Die
Created in: 1984
Purpose: To provide scholarships to University of Hartford students. Grace Carney, who was born in Hartford, was a USO entertainer during World War II and had a successful career as an actress in the early days of television and on Broadway. She returned to Connecticut in 1979 to preside over the family business, United Tool & Die Company of West Hartford, a manufacturer of aircraft components. She headed the company for thirteen years; under Carney’s leadership, United Tool & Die supported scholarships for University of Hartford students. Carney always enjoyed hearing from the recipients of her scholarships. She was fond of quoting Mrs. Levi in The Matchmaker: “Money, if you pardon the expression, is like manure. It doesn’t do any good unless it’s spread around for young things to grow.” Carney, a life regent of the University, died on March 25, 2009 at the age of 97. “Grace Carney has left her imprint on the University in so many, many ways,” said President Harrison. “Most of all, Grace’s legacy to the University will live on through the Carney Scholarships, a program with an endowment of approximately $3 million that has provided access to the University for hundreds of students, and will continue to do so for hundreds and thousands more in perpetuity.” “Although most of these students never had the good fortune I have had in knowing Grace, their lives will be forever touched by her generosity, her spirit, and her faith in their futures,” Harrison said. “I speak for the entire University in saying we will miss Grace deeply.”
Edith Cartin Prize
To benefit: Barney School of Business
Benefactor: Linda Cartin Hatten
Created in: 1994
Purpose: This award was established in memory of Edith Cartin Goldberg by Arnold and Fanchon Cartin, her son and daughter-in-law. Recipient should be a working female graduate student based solely upon academic excellence. Must be fully matriculated and have 15 credits toward a graduate degree from the Barney School.

Edith S. Cartin was the President of Capitol Light & Supply Company in Hartford, CT until 1962. Capitol Light & Supply Company was founded in 1920 by the late Morris B. Cartin, an electrical contractor who, due to the lack of a reliable source for electrical materials, had begun to distribute supplies to other contractors. Incorporated in 1926, CLS then served the needs of electrical contractors in the Greater Hartford area, and Mr. Cartin served as its President until his untimely death in 1937. His wife Edith became President at that time, and led the company capably through the end of the Depression, World War II and into the 1950's when CLS was also a regional distributor for several major lines of television and electrical appliances. The Edith Cartin prize is given annually to a working female graduate student fully matriculated with 15 credits towards a graduate degree at the Barney School showing academic excellence. Our current contact Linda Cartin Hatten is the daughter of Arnold and Fanchon and granddaughter to Edith S. Cartin.

Rhoda Chase Endowed Hartt Scholarship
To benefit: The Hartt School
Benefactors: David T. and Rhoda Chase
Created in: 1998
Purpose: To provide a scholarship to assist Hartt School students. The story of David and Rhoda Chase could easily be made into a bestselling novel. When the Nazis invaded Poland in 1939, 12 year old David and his family were forced from their home into the local Jewish ghetto. Four years later, the family was deported, along with thousands of other Jews to Auschwitz, where sixty members of the Chase family were murdered, including his mother and one sister. In late 1944, David and his father were forced on a death march to Sachsenhausen, outside Berlin. David, 15 at the time, passed out from exhaustion before reaching Sachsenhausen. He never saw his father again. He was transferred once again, this time to Mauthausen concentration camp. He escaped during a death march from the camp and was liberated in May, 1945 by Patton’s Third Army. Chase arrived in the United States in June, 1946, settled in Hartford and within two years, he had graduated from Weaver High School. He worked for a while selling house wares and appliances door to door, then did some landscaping work and then entered the University of Connecticut in Hartford, where he met Rhoda Cohen. The two began dating despite the strenuous objections of her father. “He thought David was a dreamer. He thought he’d never make
The idea of a marriage was scandalous,” she said. Her father finally relented and the couple married in 1950; shortly after both David and Rhoda dropped out of school. Chase went back to his first job, selling door to door. He packed up his old car with household items, pots, pans, sheets, etc. and covered the Hartford area. He noticed people upgrading their homes and sensed a market, so he began selling home improvements. One day, a client asked him to build a garage, then he was asked to build a warehouse, then a factory. His real estate business had begun. Within 10 years, he and Rhoda had launched Chase Enterprises, Inc. The company engages primarily in real estate development, but has also invested in banks, insurance companies, television and telecommunications. Since the early days of their marriage, the Chases have been generous contributors to the community, both local and international. They have contributed to educational institutions ranging from the University of Connecticut to Tel Aviv University, to healthcare facilities, such as the Hebrew Home and Hospital, UConn Health Center, Hartford Hospital and St. Francis Hospital, as well as many local institutions in need of help. “Remembering what I came from, it is important to me to make a contribution,” he said. “I get much more out of it than the people that I give to. When I meet the Maker, at least I can say that I tried to do something for somebody.”

Purpose: To provide scholarships for students attending The Hartt School for Music. Recipient should be a Hartt School student who has demonstrated financial need and is in good academic standing. Edward Diemente taught at the Hartt School for over forty years. As former chairman of the Theory and Composition Department, he was a strong force in the early years of Hartt’s Institute of Contemporary American Music. The Electronic Music Studio, with Diemente as director, was established by his pioneering vision. He also served as organist and Music Director at various churches in the Hartford area, including the Cathedral of St. Joseph. Upon his retirement in 1988, Diemente was elected Professor Emeritus of the University of Hartford. Diemente’s many awards include a Rockefeller Commission, an American Music Center Commission and fifteen annual ASCAP awards. His compositions have been performed by the Boston Symphony Chamber Players and the New York Brass Quintet. When composing, Diemente’s hope is that members of the audience will be caught up in what they hear and that they will leave the concert hall with a memory of something that touched their humanity. The compositions of Edward Diemente are held in the Mildred P. Allen Memorial Library and the University Archives.

Edmund W. Downes ’56 Endowed Scholarship
To benefit: Barney School of Business
Benefactor: Mary Downes
Created in: 1979
Purpose: To provide a scholarship for a student at the Barney School of Business. Recipient will be a student in Barney who demonstrates ability and financial need. Edmund Downes was an only child whose father died when he was only seven years old. As it was during the depression, he and his mother had a very difficult time. He started at the Hartford Courant in 1939 at the age of 19 as a file clerk and was promoted to the accounting and classified departments before taking a four year leave to serve in the army during World War II.
He returned to the Courant in 1946, started taking night school classes, and eventually earned his Bachelor of Science degree at the University of Hartford in 1956. He earned a series of promotions at the Courant, was appointed president in 1968 and served in that position until he retired in 1980. Colleagues recalled Downes for his manners and his unyielding will. “He had unshakable principles, and was an old fashioned gentleman” recalled Henry McNulty, former features editor for Downes. Downes rarely got involved with issues of news coverage, but held fast when he did, McNulty said. He decreed that the Courant would publish no pictures with nudity and he wouldn’t waver, even when the streaking craze hit in the 1970’s or when the Wadsworth Atheneum sent a photo of a nude painting that had been stolen, McNulty said. “He was an unbelievably sweet and kind man. He’d walk through puffing his pipe, and he was always very, very calm,” said Lou Golden, an assistant editor during Downes’ time. His wife, Mary stated that her husband was a gentle, generous and genuine man who remembered the difficult times he and his mother had been through and was always ready to help someone who needed it.

Dr. Nathan Dubin Endowed Scholarship - HAS, Inc.

To benefit: Hartford Art School, Inc.
Benefactor: Renee Dubin
Created in: 2007
Purpose: To provide a scholarship to honor the memory of Dr. Nathan Dubin. Recipient should be a Hartford Art School student with artistic merit or financial need. This scholarship was established by Renee Dubin to honor the memory of her husband, Dr. Nathan Dubin. Dr. Dubin graduated from Tufts University School of Dental Medicine in 1934 and began his practice in Hartford the following year. In 1942, in the midst of his dental career, Dubin left Hartford to become a member of the United States Air Force Dental Corps, where he helped to advance the use of antibiotics while practicing dental reconstructive surgery. When the war ended, he returned to Hartford to resume his career where he specialized in prosthodontics- the repair and replacement of damaged or malformed teeth. During his career, he published many papers on dentistry, lectured to many professional organizations, was appointed to the state Board of Dental Examiners by three governors and later became a member of the New England Regional Board of Dental Examiners. Dr. Dubin was an exceptionally charitable man; he mentored many young dentists, taught them new techniques without charge and shared his vast knowledge of dentistry. He also provided free dental services to his patients who could not afford to pay him. He was an active member of many local organizations, including the Jewish Federation of Greater Hartford, West Hartford fellowship housing, the Shriners and the Rotary Club of Hartford, where he played a critical role in the success of the Rotary’s Polio Plus campaign. Dr. Dubin died in 2005 at the age of 94. His widow, Renee, wants the recipients of this scholarship to know that it is important to be ethical and to greet the world with a positive attitude. She hopes that when students become successful, they will help other young people as her husband once did.

Purpose: To give an award in memory of the educational leadership and personal dedication of Ernest A. Dudley to the academic program of the Evening Division of the University, established by the University College Division of the Class of 1969. Recipient must be a baccalaureate candidate who has completed at least 60 credits of academic program (full time) or 45 credits (part time). An end of year award in memory of the educational leadership and personal dedication of Ernest A. Dudley to the academic program of the Evening Division of the University, established by the University College Division of the Class of 1969. Through this award, Mrs. Cairns would like the student to understand how philanthropy plays such an important part in funding so many of the projects, activities, educational and sports opportunities here at the University, as well as the scholarships and awards for excellence that are provided by the University of Hartford. It is very important to understand the need for continuing philanthropic gestures being made through the generosity of alumni and friends of the University of Hartford.

Herbert J. ’74 and Julia A. Duke Family Scholarship
To benefit: College of Education, Nursing and Health Professions
Created in: 1979
Purpose: To provide a scholarship in memory of Herbert J. and Julia A. Duke by helping a deserving matriculating student in the school of Education, a rising junior/senior with a 3.5 GPA or better. This scholarship was created in 1979, in memory of Herbert J. Duke, as a means of honoring his commitment to education. He worked for Dr. Starr at the School of Education, and then became a grant writer at the University of Hartford. His wife, family and members of the University staff created this scholarship in his memory. Herb grew up in East Windsor and attended East Windsor public schools. He came from a very poor family. He graduated in 1945 from Ellsworth Memorial High School in South Windsor. He and his wife Julia were married on July 9, 1949. Herb attended the University of Connecticut from 1947 to 1950, but the arrival of his children prevented him from getting his degree, and caused him to leave school to work full time. In 1974, Herb was able to continue his education as an evening student where he earned two University of Hartford diplomas – an Associate in Science degree and a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, majoring in the field of business education. He was thrilled to be a part of the University environment and to have the opportunity to return to college. Sadly, Herb passed away in 1979 at the age of 51. Herb left behind his wife Julia, and their four children: Kathryn, James, Celia and Michael. Celia Duke Lofink graduated from the University of Hartford in 1979 and at the Commencement ceremony, Stephen Trachtenberg, then President of the University, spoke warmly about Herbert Duke in his Farewell speech. Herb’s widow, Julia, was born to a poor Italian immigrant family. She attended the Windsor Locks public school system and graduated from Windsor Locks High School. She then went on to graduate from New Britain Teachers College (now known as Central Connecticut State College) where she majored in Education and became certified as in Elementary Education. Like Herb, Julia also shared his passion for education. Julia was employed as a 1st grade teacher for 25 years at Southwest School in the Windsor Locks School System. She retired in 1980. Shortly after her retirement, she too joined the University family on a part-time basis in the Registrar’s office for several years. Julia passed away in 2011. She lived a good life and those who knew her would say their lives were better as a result of her being a part of it.
