

Education

PhD, University

MA, University

BA, University

Biography Format and Style

Directory biographies are written in third person and are intended to be conversational in tone. Ideally, they should be 300 words or less.

Think of your bio page as your way of introducing yourself to prospective and current students. Your profile page should include information about your specialty and discipline, your passion for teaching, how you involve students in your research and scholarship and how you mentor students in producing original work. A biography should be done in a short, narrative format and welcoming in tone.

Interest Areas

Below are some suggestions of interest topics you may want to elaborate on.

- Experience
- Research , Awards, Honors
- Publications